Response to Amendment

The Amendment filed September 26, 2002 (Paper No. 13) in response to the Office Action of March 26, 2002 is acknowledged and has been entered.

Claims 1-26, and 40-67 are pending in the application.

Claims 1-26, 40-57, 59, 61, 64-67 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner under 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to non-elected inventions. (It is noted that in the "Version with Markings to Show Changes Made" applicants requested Claims 1-57, 59, and 64-67 be cancelled". However, such a request was not made in the amendments to the claims. It appears that applicants only requested that claims 58, 60, and 63 be amended on page 3, of Paper No. 13. Thus, claims 1-57, 59, and 64-67 have not been cancelled.)

Claims 58, 60, and 62-63 are currently under prosecution.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.

Rejections Maintained:

Claims 58, 60, and 62 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Teni et al. (Clinical Chemistry, Volume 35, No. 7, pages 1376-1379, 1989) for the reasons of record in Paper No. 12, pages 4-5).

Art Unit: 1642

Applicants argue (Paper No. 13, page 5) that the prior art does not anticipate the claimed invention of screening for “inhibin protein” since the prior art only discloses measuring the level of the prostatic inhibin-like protein (PIP). Applicants further argue that the term “inhibin-like” is not actually an inhibin. This argument has been considered but is not found persuasive. As mentioned in the previous action, the specification broadly defines the term “inhibin”. This includes fragments, said fragments having the functional activity of inhibin and further includes homologues, analogs, mutants, variants and derivatives thereof (specification, page 7, lines 5+). Thus, broadly interpreted, a prostatic inhibin-like peptide (i.e. PIP) is a fragment, variant, or derivative of inhibin. Applicants further argue (Paper No. 13, page 5) that they have submitted an abstract of an article (Gordon et al.) which explicitly states that “ $\beta$ -microsemenoprotein is not an inhibin”. This argument has been considered but is not found persuasive because no such article accompanied applicant’s response. Secondly, the argument appears irrelevant because applicants have not established a relationship between the prior art teaching of PIP and a “ $\beta$ -microsemenoprotein”. Thus, applicant’s arguments have not been found persuasive and the rejection is maintained.

Claims 58, 60, 62-63 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ying et al. (Life Sci. Volume 60, Number 6, pages 397-401, January 1997, IDS, #47) and Teni et al. (Clinical Chemistry, Volume 35, No. 7, pages 1376-1379, 1989) for the reasons of record in Paper No. 12, pages 6-7.

Applicants argue (Paper No. 13, page 6), that as discussed above, the Examiner’s reliance upon Teni as showing the successful screening of prostate comprising screening for the down regulation of inhibin protein levels is erroneous because Teni doe not disclose screening for an inhibin as claimed. This argument has been considered but is not found persuasive for the reasons set forth above concerning the 102(b) rejection. Thus, applicant's arguments have not been found persuasive and the rejection is maintained.

New Rejections:

Claims 58, 60, 62-63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In particular, the claims are vague because there is no limit to what encompasses a "modified" inhibin. Thus, it would not be clear how the modification indicates the presence or absence of prostate cancer. Also, in claim 63, the modification is "absent". Absent what? The claims clearly do not indicate what the modification is in relationship to, and therefore the presence or absence of such a modification is vague. As such, the metes and bounds of the claims cannot be determined.

All other rejections and or objections are withdrawn in view of applicant's amendments and arguments there to.

No claim is allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
